

Learning Strategy of the Week: Tweet Board

Learning Strategy of the Week:

Tweet Board

- Feedback and talking about your learning is key to understanding what you know and where to go next.
- The tweet board is a way you can show your teacher your learning and let them know about any questions you might still have

Learning Strategy of the Week:

Tweet Board

- How to use it:

In SCHOOL:

- On a post-it, show your learning: keywords/things you have learnt/interesting facts/key ideas/a question you have etc.
- Put the post-it on the tweet board when asked to do so by the teacher

AT HOME:

- Use the board to see how much you have learnt and guide what you need to revise in a visual way

Learning Strategy of the Week:

Tweet Board

- Great for:
  - Deepening your understanding
  - Letting the teacher know how you are getting on
  - Showing your learning
  - Using your knowledge in new ways
  - Highlighting exactly what a question is asking

Learning Strategy of the Week:

Tweet Board

- You can download and print your own tweet board for home from our school website!

Learning takes time and effort...

Just take it step by step!

What's your mindset?

Knowing how you think can help you learn
